Thank you for this.

My immediate concern is the likely impact of construction and a construction compound close to TS Renown Sea Cadet HQ, where the pre-school nursery operates. I am not sure whether Paul Reid or Martin Morris would be the person to cross examine about these issues.

We have attended various meetings with the consultation team and been given vague assurances that efforts will be made to minimise disruption to the nursery and sea cadets. We have been operating a successful business at the venue for over ten years, employing ten staff and providing affordable nursery places for local families. The nursery was full last term with places for eighty-four children.

I appreciate that things cannot be concrete before contracts are awarded but I need more than vague assurances for our local families, my staff and ourselves.

Thank you

Mick Morris

Thank you for this. I will speak to the inspector to see if will allow you to appear at the inquiry and let you know. He is on holiday at the moment so it could be a little time until I get back to you. Do you wish to cross-examine of any of the witnesses?

Many thanks

Kind regards
Yvonne Parker
